POSITION
One or more Archaeological Field Technician (Research Associate I Temporary) positions are available with the Center for Environmental Management of Military Lands (CEMML). This position is located at Fort A.P. Hill, Virginia.

ORGANIZATION
CEMML is a research, education and service unit within the Warner College of Natural Resources at Colorado State University (CSU). CEMML applies the latest and most appropriate science to promote the sustainable management of natural and cultural resources on Department of Defense (DoD) and other public lands. We provide technical support, conduct applied research, and offer career development and learning opportunities to support resource stewardship. We collaborate with our sponsors and within CSU to resolve complex environmental issues, leaving a legacy of science-based decisions that sustain our resources for future generations.

RESPONSIBILITIES
The Archaeological Field Technician will conduct archaeological surveys and inventories of proposed forestry harvest blocks and will be responsible for compliance with local environmental and safety rules and regulations. The Archaeological Field Tech will also assist in other cultural resource management (CRM) activities as required. Such activities include: assisting in other archaeological investigations, when needed; equipment maintenance; GPS data collection; and attending Environmental and Natural Resource Division meetings, training, and outreach events, when needed.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS
• BA/BS in archaeology, anthropology, history, or closely related field.
• Experience in archaeological field survey methods, including pedestrian and shovel testing archaeological field survey, mapping, digital photography, and recording archaeological findings on standardized forms.
• Have a thorough understanding of most standard computer programs, especially MS Word and Excel.
• A willingness to work in a highly structured work environment with established lines of authority, procedures and protocols is required.
• The successful candidate must be able to walk over uneven terrain in inclement weather.
• The position may also require bending, climbing, and lifting up to 25 pounds.
• Must have a valid driver’s license or the ability to obtain a driver’s license by the employment start date.
• The successful candidate must be eligible to work in the United States by proposed start date. CEMML will not provide visa sponsorship for this position.

DESIRABLE QUALIFICATIONS
• The most highly qualified candidates will demonstrate previous archaeological work experience in the Mid-Atlantic States.
• Experience working with cultural resource applications of Geographic Information Systems (GIS) and Global Positioning Systems (GPS) technology highly desirable.
• Experience in laboratory analysis, data compilation, and technical report contribution are beneficial.
• Previous experience on military bases is beneficial.
DIVERSITY STATEMENT
Reflecting departmental and institutional values, candidates are expected to have the ability to advance the Department's commitment to diversity and inclusion.

BACKGROUND CHECK
Colorado State University is committed to providing a safe and productive learning and living community. To achieve that goal, we conduct background investigations for all final candidates being considered for employment. Background checks may include, but are not limited to, criminal history, national sex offender search and motor vehicle history.

SALARY
Hourly wage is commensurate with experience and qualifications: $15-$20 /hour. This is a temporary/seasonal position not to exceed 9-months.

APPLICATION
Prospective candidates must meet the minimum qualifications in the announcement to be considered for hire. Application to be submitted via email to kerri.c.holland.ctr@mail.mil. Apply no later than 31-August-2019 for full consideration. Please remove social security numbers and birthdates from application materials. A complete application consists of:

1) Resume
2) Transcripts (for each degree earned that is listed under qualifications)
